

Milligan University Concert Choir

The Concert Choir is an auditioned ensemble that proudly upholds a long tradition of choral excellence at Milligan University. The choir regularly performs throughout the US, with recent performance tours to Chicago and the Midwest as well as Florida, New York, and Washington, DC. In addition, the choir maintains an active performance schedule on campus with regular collaborations with the Milligan Orchestra, the Johnson City Symphony Orchestra, and the Symphony of the Mountains. In the past, the choir has performed at the invitation of the President at the National Prayer Breakfast and also on international tours to England, Ireland, and Mexico. In addition, the choir has been invited to sing at the North American Christian Convention, the Conference on World Evangelism—National Missionary Convention, and the Tennessee State Conference of the American Choral Directors' Association. The Concert Choir is conducted by Dr. Noah DeLong, Professor of Music at Milligan University.
